

B.P. Koirala Institute of Health Sciences
BPKIHS – Dharan, Nepal

Eligibility Criteria

50% in 12th class with Physics, Chemistry, Biology & English
NEET qualification mandatory for Indian students
Minimum age: 17 years by December 31 of admission year

Program Offered

MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery)

Intakes

August–September

University Type

Public Autonomous Health Sciences University

Location

Dharan, Sunsari District, Nepal

Official Website

<https://www.bпкиhs.edu/>

B.P. Koirala Institute of Health Sciences Overview

Features | Location | Programs | About

Study at B.P. Koirala Institute of Health Sciences

About BPKIHS

Established in 1993 through Nepal–India collaboration, B.P. Koirala Institute of Health Sciences (BPKIHS) is one of Nepal's premier medical institutions. It became an autonomous health sciences university in 1998 and is named after Bishweshwar Prasad Koirala, Nepal's first democratically elected Prime Minister.

BPKIHS hosts four key faculties: Medicine, Dental Surgery, Nursing, and Public Health. It offers a wide array of undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programs including MBBS, BDS, BSc Nursing, MD/MS, DM/MCh, MPH, and PhD. The university's 700-bed teaching hospital provides advanced clinical exposure and hands-on training for students.

Recognized by WHO, NMC (India), and other international councils, BPKIHS maintains a strong academic reputation and attracts students from across Nepal and neighboring countries.

Why Choose BPKIHS for MBBS?

Recognized by WHO, NMC (India), Sri Lanka Medical Council
Listed in the World Directory of Medical Schools (WDOMS)
NEET required; IELTS/TOEFL not mandatory
Strong Indo-Nepal collaboration in medical education
Community-based teaching through district hospitals
Full clinical exposure with ICU, MRI, CT, and emergency care
Modern infrastructure: library, labs, hostel, cafeteria, and auditorium
Affordable fee structure with Indian-friendly curriculum and environment

Why Study in Nepal?

Nepal is an excellent destination for Indian MBBS aspirants due to its NEET-based admission, low travel costs, and cultural familiarity. Medical colleges like BPKIHS offer high-quality education with modern clinical training, affordable fees, and internationally recognized degrees. The peaceful environment, safety, and proximity to India make Nepal a practical and comfortable option for medical studies.

Life at BPKIHS

Student life at BPKIHS is dynamic, inclusive, and education-focused:

Hands-on clinical practice at teaching hospitals
Hostels with essential amenities and Indian food options
Participation in research, CME programs, and conferences
Cultural events, sports, and community health camps
Safe campus with diverse student population
Access to libraries, digital resources, and modern laboratories

Features

Community-Based Medical Education
700-Bed Multi-Specialty Teaching Hospital
Internships at District Teaching Hospitals
Postgraduate & Doctoral Opportunities
Practical Training in Real-Life Health Scenarios

Location

NEPAL, Dharan – Sunsari District

Programs

Explore healthcare-focused medical programs:

MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery)
University: B.P. Koirala Institute of Health Sciences, Dharan
Earliest Intake: August–September 2025
Course Duration: 5.5 Years (including internship)
Medium of Instruction: English
Annual Tuition Fee: Approx. $6,000–$7,000 (subject to change)
Application Fee: Refer to official website