

Central America Health Sciences University

Central America Health Sciences University BELIZE

Eligibility Criteria

Minimum 60% in 12th grade with Physics, Biology, and Chemistry

GPA of 7 or above in science subjects

Minimum 50% in NEET

Age between 17 to 25 years

No gap of more than 2 years in education

IELTS/TOEFL scores may be required

SAT or MCAT may be required by some Central American universities

Programs Offered

MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery)

Basic Medical Sciences and Clinical Medical Sciences

Intakes

September and October

University Type

Private

Location

Belize City, Belize

Official Website

<https://www.cahsu.edu>

Belize City, Belize

Central America Health Sciences University Overview

Features | Location | Programs | About

Study at Central America Health Sciences University

About Central America Health Sciences University

Established in 1996, Central America Health Sciences University (CAHSU), also known as Belize Medical College, is a recognized private medical school located in Belize City, Belize. It is chartered by the Government of Belize and approved by the Ministry of Education.

CAHSU follows a U.S.-modeled curriculum and delivers a comprehensive education that prepares students for global medical practice. Instruction is primarily in English, and the university is listed in the World Directory of Medical Schools. It is also recognized by WHO, ECFMG (USA), and GMC (UK), making its graduates eligible for licensing exams like USMLE and PLAB.

Why Choose CAHSU for MBBS?

Recognized by WHO, ECFMG (USA), and GMC (UK)

Approved by the Ministry of Education, Belize

MBBS degree accepted in the USA, UK, and other countries

USMLE and PLAB eligibility for residency programs

English as the medium of instruction

U.S.-based medical curriculum with focus on practical training

Strategically located for access to the U.S., Mexico, and Latin America

Politically stable, English-speaking country with a tropical climate

Why Study in Belize?

Belize is a safe, English-speaking country with a stable political system. Its location in Central America provides proximity to North and South America, making travel and networking easier. Belize offers affordable medical education, U.S.-modeled curriculums, and a Caribbean lifestyle, attracting students from across the world.

Life at CAHSU

Student life at CAHSU is enriching and academically focused:

Clinical rotations in Belize and affiliated hospitals in the U.S.

English-speaking campus with international student community

Strong academic and administrative support

Warm climate, beautiful beaches, and cultural diversity

Fully equipped labs and simulation-based medical training

Affordable living and safe environment

Features

WHO, ECFMG, and GMC recognition

USMLE and PLAB exam eligibility

U.S.-style curriculum and clinical education

Government chartered and internationally listed

Practical exposure from early semesters

Location

BELIZE, Belize City

Programs

Explore undergraduate medical programs:

MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery)
Central America Health Sciences University – Belize City
Earliest Intake: September 2025
Course Duration: 5.5 Years (including internship)
Gross Tuition: Approx. $7,000 to $9,000 per year
Application Fee: Not Specified