About Ferghana Medical Institute of Public Health (FMIPH)

The Ferghana Medical Institute of Public Health (FMIPH) is a leading government medical university in Uzbekistan, offering globally recognized MBBS programs. Established in 1991 under Fergana State University, FMIPH now operates independently under the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Science & Education. It is a trusted destination for Indian MBBS aspirants due to its English-medium instruction, affordable fees, and modern medical education.

FMIPH is recognized by global institutions such as the World Health Organization (WHO) and India's National Medical Commission (NMC), ensuring that its degrees are valid and respected worldwide. The institute boasts a faculty of over 147 professors across 19 departments, with advanced teaching facilities including 3D simulation labs, cadaver training, and digital classrooms. The university holds two intakes annually – January and September – and provides student-friendly support throughout the academic journey.

Why Choose FMIPH for MBBS?

Government medical institute ranked 7th in Uzbekistan
 Globally recognized by WHO, NMC, and other medical councils
 6-year English-medium MBBS course with strong clinical training

Affordable fee structure and Indian-friendly infrastructure
Active celebration of Indian festivals like Pongal and Holi
Direct flights from India and cultural support on campus

Why Study in Uzbekistan?

Uzbekistan has emerged as a top destination for Indian MBBS students because of its strong Indo-Uzbek relations, low living costs, English-taught medical programs, and cultural inclusivity. Fergana, being a culturally rich and peaceful city, offers a comfortable and safe academic environment.
